

Waldo County Veterans' Meeting in Belfast.

Thomas H. Marshall Post and Circle entertained the Waldo County Veterans' Association Thursday and regardless of the dull and dreary skies, thick fog and frequent showers, thirty-four veterans and thirty one of the most entertaining of the many pleasant times in Belfast, where they feel at home in G. A. R. Hall.

At the morning session with President Johnson F. Trask of Newburg presiding the only business transacted was the time of the next meeting, which will be in Monroë the first Thursday in August. The forenoon was spent with the usual smoker and reminiscences. Many familiar faces and voices were missing.

It was a source of gratification to all that there were no deaths of members of the Association since the last meeting to be reported.

A delicious picnic dinner was served at noon under the direction of Thomas H. Marshall Circle with Mrs. Emory O. Pennington chairman of the committee. The Circle furnished heavy meats, bread and coffee, while the well filled lunch baskets provided the rest of the menu. Covers were laid for about 200 people at tables decorated with garden roses and sprays of the fragrant red clover at each plate. The latter was generally used later as buttonholes.

After the afternoon session extra seats were brought in to accommodate the audience, including many of the town's people. President Trask presided and the opening prayer was made by Rev. W. H. Abbott of Liberty. The address of welcome was by Rev. Thomas B. Gregory of New York, who is spending the summer in Belfast. After a most cordial greeting and friendly chat with the special visitors of the Association he took for his subject of a clear, concise and scholarly discourse, "The Meaning of the Victory That Was Won by the Boys in Blue." He said the vital issue was the Civil War in which the Boys in Blue won their victory was "shall the Republic live, not wholly shall the North or the South win, or shall the negro be made free." The speaker at that time was a Southern youth and he made the Republic with the men from the North. It was then that America had its real birth. This age is most thrilling, interesting and solemn. The world knows what the result has been for the Civil War struggle and what shall the harvest be from the World War? What will America do? It all depends on her. From overseas came the call, "Come over and help us." America went to save France and England and thereby saved the world. If General Lee had not surrendered the world would have been a victory like that was necessary only once and for all time. They saved the Anglo Saxon race and hence the world. He was frequently applauded.

Mrs. Evelyn C. Frost sang the solo, with Mrs. Bessie Keyes McKee accompanist, "Sweet Miss Mary," and responded with the catchy Irish song of Nora.

Rev. Mr. Abbott responded to the address of welcome in a brief speech that the all the courtesies offered them, he became reminiscent and spoke of the heartache, torture and sorrow of the mothers and sweethearts left at home when the Boys in Blue went to the front. He closed by cautioning the veterans and saying that they must not forget the part the women took in that great struggle.

Miss Wilda Savery was graceful and pleasing in reading a bright selection entitled "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Miss Dorothy Spear, with Miss Margaret Eaton, accompanist, sang "I Must Be Heaven for My Mother Came From There," and responded with Mammy's Lullaby.

Remarks were made by Comrade Mann of Bangor, a guest of Mrs. Etta Harris of this city.

Mrs. Basil Allen, with Mrs. McKee accompanying, sang, "Our God, Our Country and Our Flag" and responded with a lighter but pretty song, "Two Eyes of Blue."

A quartet of pupils from the McLellan school under the direction of Miss Madeline Combs, little Misses Lillian Orchard and Clarissa Harriman, Masters Norman Wood and Orin Salisbury surprised all by singing "The Spring Song and Mother's Lullaby."

Miss Edna Hopkins sang two patriotic selections, "The Stars and Stripes" and "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall."

Remarks were interspersed by Comrade and Mrs. Charles Wellman of Belmont, L. C. Owen of Morrill, Comrades Mrs. Julia G. Ferguson and City Marshal M. R. Knowlton.

A duet, Riddles, was sung by the little

A surety company bond satisfactory to the municipal officers of the City of Belfast, running to the City of Belfast, for $10,000 will be required of the successful bidder. The City of Belfast does not obligate itself to accept the lowest or any other bid.

WILLIAM A. LEAR

William A. Lear died in this city Sunday, July 2nd, 1922. He was born in Northport, Feb. 23, 1850, the son of Aaron and Mary (Thompson) Lear, and his life was practically spent in that town with the exception of a short residence in this city, where he was engaged as a stone mason. A widow, two sons and three daughters survive him, living at Northport, Maine. His wife, Mrs. Mary (Thompson) Lear, died in 1915. His son, Mr. Fannie Dutton of Belfast, Mrs. Sarah Harvey of Waldo and Mrs. Arletta Merrithew of Belfast. The funeral was held in the Chapel at Grove Cemetery Wednesday at 2 p. m., with Rev. W. H. Martin of the Methodist church officiating. The interment was in the South Belfast cemetery.

MATHEWS—UNDERHILL.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Hon. J. S. Mullen June 25, at 4 p. m., when Carl K. Mathews of Center Lincolnville, and Grace M. Underhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Asher, of Springfield, Mass., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Mullen in the presence of a few people. They were later entertained at the home of relatives and dainty refreshments served. They were the recipients of many wedding gifts. Both of the young people are well known and they have many friends, who wish them happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews will reside in their new home at Mountain View Farm and will be glad to greet all friends. Congratulations and best wishes are extended.

MISS MELVINA V. AND ELIZABETH PARKER

Miss Melvina V. and Elizabeth Parker have packed some of their goods and will move from the Hopkins house on Court street to one of the Pitcher cottages at the Battery for the summer.

THE CHURCHES

Regular services will be held at the Trinity Reformed church Sunday at 2:30 p. m., with sermon by Rev. William Vaughan. Sunday school will immediately follow.

Rev. George S. Mills of Bennington, Vt., will occupy the pulpit of the Federated church Sunday, July 20th, and Rev. Adolph Rossbach of Waltham, Mass., will preach there Sunday, July 27th.

METHODIST CHURCH. People's Methodist Church, Rev. Charles W. Martin, pastor; personnel, No. 7 Court St.; telephone, 213-11. Sunday morning service at 10:45. Sunday school, 12 m. Evening service at 7:30. Prayer meeting this Thursday, evening at 7:30.

The St. Margaret Episcopal church, corner of Court and Elm streets, will begin services for the summer July 9th. The Rev. R. A. Patrock, LL.D. D. C. L., Prof. of Greek at Colgate University, will have charge of the services. There will be morning prayer and sermon at 10:45 a. m. July 9th. Everyone is cordially invited.

On Sunday, July 9, there will be an open air meeting of the Church of God at 2 o'clock in the grove on the J. L. Lord farm in West Belfast. Everyone is invited. If the weather is not suitable for an outdoor meeting it will be held in the Lord house.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. Rev. George C. Sauer, pastor; residence, 13 Cedar. Telephone 123-11.

Sabbath service during July will be as follows: Morning worship, 10:45; evening, 7:30; Bible school, 12; young people, 6:30; midweek service Thursday, at 7:30. "O magnify the Lord with me; let us exalt his name together." This is both a duty and a delight. Only spiritual worship will be acceptable to God; this is what he seeks, and more than that, this is what the very nature of the case requires. "The hour cometh and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth, for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers." "For God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

You are cordially invited to assist in the service of worship next Sabbath morning. The sermon theme is "Christ Lifted Up," which was the motto everywhere seen and spoken of at the Northern Baptist Convention just held at Indianapolis. This was a convention which marked an epoch in the life and opportunity of our churches. Notwithstanding the changed conditions and beliefs, our churches by an overwhelming majority do reaffirm the "historic statement of our absolute rule of faith and practice." This affirmation gives great joy to the rank and file of the Baptist people, and they turn with confidence and devotion to the manifold tasks of the Christian church in the home field, and the raising of $10,000,000 for the maintenance of the work in the foreign mission field.

The Thursday evening service will be conducted by the young people of the church, "Nebuchadnezzar's Dream." Dan. 2:1-36:45.

The Sunday evening twilight services of music and song will be continued during July at 7:30 o'clock. Everyone cordially invited.

The Federated Church: Rev. W. F. Skerry, minister; residence, 26 High street; telephone, 86-4. Please do not fail to telephone the minister of any case of illness or distress where his service may be helpful. Sunday morning service at 10:45; sermon topic, "What's a Cup of Water Worth." A cordial invitation is extended to all. Here let no man be stranger. "Whosoever thou art that enterest this church, leave it not without a prayer for thyself, for him who is thy pastor and for those who worship here."

Religious differences have been a marked characteristic of the Protestant church from the beginning. The history of these differences is painful reading to such as believe that the supreme function of the church is that of ministering to human souls. It is a little disturbing to the most complacent defender of sectarian tenets and usages to be reminded that the Father of all souls is, in all probability not greatly interested in the peculiar content of any of our earthly creeds. If the gospel of the good life is the gospel of Jesus, as people of every denomination are more and more happily affirming, the highest value of church and individual alike is correctly measured only in terms of love to God and man, expressed in terms of worship and kindly service to all. It is a growing sense of this simple truth that characterizes the religious life of today. Unity is to be the word and fact of the future. Signs of this are seen in our newspapers, in religious editorials, and, much more, in the bodily union of the institutions themselves.

The period of interpretation has passed; that of practical conduct has come. Already a number of former Unitarian and Unitarian churches in New England have united. These two branches of the great stream of independent Congregationalism established by the Puritans, have been flowing apart for a hundred years; now they are reuniting. Striking evidence of this is afforded by the recently consummated union of Harvard Divinity School and the Andover Theological Seminary, the representatives of the two streams of the great stream of independent Congregationalism established by the Puritans, have been flowing apart for a hundred years; now they are reuniting. "Here's to the memory of the man who owned the land
That raised the corn,
That fed the goose,
That bore the quill,
That made the pen,
That wrote the Declaration of Independence!"

"Any day while we are fumbling and probing and splitting hairs some genius silently appears and touches commonplace things, and lo! there is new light upon earth, a new happiness and a new smile in the land."

Mr. C. W. Barron of the Boston News Bureau, the Wall Street Journal, and other financial journals, was an on-looker at the Genoa conference from its opening until its conclusion. Mr. Barron is a man whose observations and conclusions attract the attention of the ablest men in the United States. A few days ago the Boston Herald gave to the public an interview in which Mr. Barron described conditions in Europe as revealed in the conference of Genoa. He said:

"Germany is sinking to the level of Russia and the problem of the banking world at Paris and of the reparations commission and statesmen of Europe is how to save her. That question is more important than how to make Germany pay. Germany has bankrupted herself with the paper mark to prevent payment to France, with the result that she is gone so far down stream as to raise the question of how she will deal, or how the European nations will deal with her when disorder and starvation face her in the not distant future.

"Germany's financial transportation is breaking down, and how to feed her people in the near future is a very serious problem. Germany is not a self-sustaining nation like France, which is coming through much better than expected. She is standing firm, has fought down the German inflation ideas and won over socialism and all other threatened disorders. Her problem is, of course, how she can make Germany pay. But soon it may be for Germany—pity instead of payment.

Of the Russian situation Mr. Barron reports that:

"Some 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 people, it is figured, must die of starvation in Russia this year. Russian transportation has broken down and the world cannot get food to the suffering whatever may be its good intentions."

He also says it was perfectly clear at Genoa that the soviet was on its last legs but he added that there was no possibility of a real government succeeding the soviet, if that should break up, before trade and other relations had been established with the outside world. If trade were introduced and established the people could be saved from anarchy when the change from the soviet to a better form of government took place. Mr. Barron says that this consideration moved the English representatives in the Genoa conference to favor trade with Russia.

The United States has placed no ban upon trade with Russia, but the soviet government has repudiated its debts and has reduced its people to a condition which has made it impossible for them to pay cash for goods. Production in Russia has fallen so low in large areas of the country that American relief is feeding more than seven million people and has expended more than sixty million dollars, during the past two years, in the famine at ricken districts. Even in the most favored sections of the country production but little exceeds the necessities of the people. Under existing conditions it seems to be useless to talk about trade with Russia.

There are more than 64,000,000 life insurance policies of various kinds in force to day in the United States and these policies call for the payment of more than $42,000,000,000 at maturity. These companies have assets amounting to more than $9,000,000,000 and an annual gross income of about $2,000,000,000 from premiums. The assets and the premiums establish the solvency of the companies, which is so generally recognized that the banks of the country accept life insurance companies for loans. Life insurance companies do not speculate in stocks. They seek investments in what are known as gilt edged bonds, and about one quarter of their funds are invested in the securities of our best and most important public utilities.

We have at hand no comparative figures concerning fire, marine and other forms of insurance, but it is safe to say that they are very large and the investments of these companies are on a basis as safe and sane as those of the life insurance companies.

After one week of bolshevism, or of communism or of socialism in this country no insurance on life or property would have any value. Leaving out all other disastrous effects of any of these confederations this alone would put our public utilities out of business, stop the wheels of industry and take away from individuals all incentive or ability to rebuild the prosperity of a ruined country.

Certain newspapers and a great many people are denouncing stockholders as being robbers. It should not be forgotten that public utilities, our great industries, our banks and many other great and important enterprises, stand on a foundation made by the capital of stockholders. If stockholders all over the country should withdraw their support from the enterprises in which they have sustained and directed there would be immediate unemployment followed by distress on a scale never before known in America and the United States would fall to the level of Russia when stockholders had been eliminated.

There are stockholders, however, who allow and encourage their managers to squeeze every dollar they can from an easy-going and indulgent public.

To these our legislators and our courts should show no mercy.

The cotton mill strikers in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island are still holding out but their chances for winning seem to be small, for the following reasons:—The mills of the south are running undisturbed by strikes, with no restrictions on child labor, adults are, on the whole, receiving a wage somewhat lower than prevails in the North, the southern mills are putting out about 40 per cent of the cotton cloth needed in this country, many of the mills in the North are running and a flood of cotton goods is pouring into this country from the Orient and from England.

We believe the cotton mill workers in Maine were wise when they decided to accept a cut in wages.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

The aim of vocational instruction is to make education practical. Under the old purely classical education system schools often taught the pupil everything except how to earn a living. Lessons had only a remote connection with his future occupation. He left the school-room only to find that he had no marketable knowledge. And since the old time apprenticeship system which formerly filled this need has well nigh vanished, there was no vestibule to industry itself. How much suffering and futile misapplication of effort has resulted from this vocational lack, only the unfortunate victims themselves can tell.

Educators have for years been experimenting with industrial instruction. The entrance of the government into this field through the legislation of 1917 has definitely established industrial instruction as an integral part of our school system. Today through annual grants apportioned through the federal board among the States, vocational education is taking on a momentum even beyond the hopes of its pioneers. These grants for the current year equal $4,120,833. Since every State or local board is required to match the federal grant on a fifty-fifty basis, the total expended on public vocational education for the current year is more than double this figure.

According to the report for the year ending June 30, 1921, the number of vocational schools receiving federal aid is 3,938. The rate of increase is evident when it is noted that the number of federal-aided schools on June 30, 1918, was only 1,741—less than half.

Of the present number 1,721 are agricultural schools; 836 are trade and industrial schools; 914 are home economics, and 388 are primary general continuation schools. Of the 305,224 enrolled students, 42,709 are agricultural; 83,532 are trade and industrial; 63,806 are home economic, and 115,177 are general continuation school pupils.

MARSHALL-BOND

Summer flowers, such as peonies, roses and larkspur, interspersed with palms and ferns, comprised the decorations of the interior of the Union Church in Waban, where on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock occurred the wedding of Miss Marjorie L. Bond and Charles Rhodes Marshall. Miss Bond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bond of 1445 Beacon street, Waban, and attended school at Glen Eden Foughkeessie, New York. Mr. Marshall, who graduated from Yale in 1916, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Marshall of 7 Cliff street, Winchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Cutler, the pastor of the church. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Harriet Bond. The wedding gown of the bride was ivory satin crepe with court train, her tulle veil being held by a band of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. A pearl necklace worn by the bride was worn by the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. William Colburn Marshall of Belfast, Maine, at her wedding and also by his mother at her wedding in Belfast. The bridesmaids wore yellow and Miss Harriet Bond, both carried bouquets of blue larkspur and Ward roses. Mr. M. Walker Jones attended the bridegroom and the ushers were Lieut. Commander George F. Neiley, Lowell R. Smith, and Geoffrey C. Neiley of Winchester. Frank J. Hartley, Jr., of Belmont, Lowell Bond of Waban and Aretas O. Barker of Brookline. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will be at home at 14 Park avenue, Winchester.

WINTERPORT

Norman Arey of Greenville was in town recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Nickerson of Frankfort were Sunday guests of Mrs. Edith Bartlett.

Mrs. Bicknell of Hampden and Mr. C. E. Welch of Brewer have been recent guests of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Bicknell.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Atwood of Rochester, Mass., were guests recently of his father, Lewis Atwood and sister, Mrs. Joshua Treat, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements D. Cates, son Billy and daughter Mary Ann and maid, arrived recently at their summer residence on Dean street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weed of Dover motored June 24th to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fields, who returned with them the next day for a visit.

Mrs. C. R. Hill and Mrs. Walter Arey attended the graduation at the E. M. N. S. at Castine, their daughters Miss Catharine Hill and Miss Doris Arey being members of the graduation class.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor of Waterville were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carleton. Mr. Taylor, who is a graduate of the W. H. S., is now employed in the First National Bank in Waterville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clements were in town Sunday June 26 to attend the memorial services of Monroe Lodge I. O. O. F., and Loyal Rebekah Lodge, which were held at the village church. Rev. N. F. Atwood of Searsport, spoke.

Court Waldo, I. O. O. F., held its annual memorial services on Sunday, June 26, Rev. D. R. Bailey, pastor of the Oldtown Episcopal Church being the speaker of the afternoon. All marched to the cemetery after the services and decorated the graves of deceased members.

Mrs. Ellen Littlefield and daughter Ada arrived recently from Connecticut, where Mrs. Littlefield has been teaching. Mrs. Littlefield has sold her residence on Main street to Amos D. Wilson who will occupy it. Mrs. Littlefield and daughter were guests of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Wiley, while in town.

F. C. Knowles, C. C. Clements and Arthur J. Edmonds were in Prospect, June 24th, where the four school boards in the school union of Frankfort, Prospect, Stockton and Winterport met. They re-elected Supt. Schools, Frederick M. Nickerson for another year, which is pleasing to his Winterport friends.

Mrs. Ida M. Nickerson formerly of North Searsport, who has been spending several months in Virginia with her son Arthur, arrived on the S. S. Camden June 25th to visit her sister, Mrs. George Cole and brother, F. M. Eastman. While on the way North she visited her niece, Mrs. William Dotten in Baltimore.

Seldom indeed have our town's people been so profoundly shocked as on June 22nd, when it was learned that Lyman Clark of Frankfort had died from burns. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Clark of West Winterport, who with his widow and two brothers, Ivan and Summer Clark, survive him. A large number of relatives, friends and former neighbors attended the funeral services which were held in Frankfort Saturday morning.

The cloud burst, deluge, or torrential rain storm of Wednesday night, June 22, did much damage to the highways and bridges all over town. It has been estimated that it will require over $3000 to restore the roads to as good condition as before the storm. Four bridges were washed away but were soon replaced, but it will be many days before the roads can be repaired. A big washout so the B & A. in town was reported so trains were running in the afternoon.

Mrs. Edith Bartlett will accompany her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Nickerson, on an automobile trip to Massachusetts leaving Wednesday. Mr. Nickerson who is Supt. of Schools will attend the Superintendents conference at Gorham, Maine the last of the week. He will also attend the sessions of the National Educational Association which convenes in Boston next week. While in Massachusetts they will be guests of Mrs. Bartlett's and Mrs. Nickerson's brother, Melvin West, formerly of Frankfort.

Resolutions of Respect

Beach Chapter, O. E. S., has adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, In view of the loss sustained by Beach Chapter by the death of our esteemed brother and Worthy Patron, William Law, and the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his removal from our midst, we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our esteem and respect.

Resolved, That we are impressed with the fact that this is not our dwelling place, but that we are destined to pass on one by one to the Grand Chapter above, where fraternity reigns supreme.

Resolved, That this testimony of our sympathy and sorrow be sent the sorrowing wife of the deceased brother.

Resolved, That our charter be draped for thirty days and a page of our records be set aside with these resolutions inscribed thereon, and a copy sent to the Republican Journal for publication.

Lincolnville, June 23, 1922.

Summer sessions at Camp Ellsworth under the direction of the College of Business Administration of Boston University opened Thursday when 75 students arrived by way of the Boston boat via Rockland. Twenty of the students are accompanied by their wives and two honeymooners will be spent at Ellsworth. Prof. Charles E. Bellamy, director of the Ellsworth summer session, and 75 students are already there awaiting the opening day, making 100 students enrolled.

Fiat Money Sentiment.

Information coming from the West is to the effect that there is a revival there of a fiat money sentiment, something akin to the greenback craze of about a half-century ago. It is predicated on the assertion that the gold production is not adequate for the demands of trade and that we need a greatly expanded circulating medium. This was the argument used for free silver coinage more than a score of years ago. It is the basis of all claims for an inflated currency. However, it is not a little surprising that there should be a clamor for a fiat currency when we have so many illustrious examples of that very thing. Russia, possibly, possesses the palm in that regard, though Germany, Austria and every other nation in Eastern Europe is doing its best to displace Russia as leader in producing paper money.

Those who advocate fiat money want it in order to increase prices. Of course prices go up as money goes down. Yet, there is at this time not the same reason for cheap money that there was at the time that free silver had its inning. Coinage of the white metal was urged because it would make money plentiful and debts, can be paid with legal tender cheap money as well as with gold money. The debtor class was the mainstay of the silver mine owners in that movement.

While there are plenty of debtors today, the Western farmers certainly are not in that class to the extent they were in 1896. Free silver appealed then because there had been a long period of extremely low prices for farm products. While such a condition operates to-day to some extent it is comparatively recent and is in the process of alleviation, apparently.

WORTH A TRIAL

A decided interest is growing in the use of lime to sweeten our granite soils and this promises much for future growers. At the same time it may be well to hold in mind the distinction between the two grades on the market. One is the product of the lime kilns and is known as caustic or burned lime and the other is the carbonate of lime which comes from shells, marl, marble, bones and limestone. 100 pounds of pure limestone burned will make 56 pounds of quick lime and if 18 pounds of water are added we have 74 pounds of slaked or hydrated lime. An objection to this on the part of some is its caustic effect in handling and in the soil. For this reason the carbonate is preferred.

The chief function of lime is to correct acidity of the soil and decompose organic matter. Our system of cropping has reduced the volume of this organic material and the soil becomes sour in spite of the alkaline nature of the dressing applied. That supply growing less year by year forces consideration of the service possible through the use of this agent so inexpensive and so valuable. Correcting the acidity of the soil insures the activity of the nitrogen-gathering bacteria which after all must be the reliance of the successful grower and cropper. Lime is not a fertilizer but does its service along another path and it will be well for this service to be recognized.—Maine Farmer.

STOCKTON SCHOOLS

The intermediate school, under Mrs. Jennie P. Harding and the primary school under Miss Elva M. Readall, held closing exercises June 23rd. The pupils acquitted themselves finely.

In the intermediate school the records show those not absent for twelve weeks: Valmore Bennett, Arthur Morrison, Nattina Pinkham, Martha Engberg, Ethan Partridge, Pearl Landry, Millard Dorr and Maurice Veno.

The primary list: Leroy Nickerson, Richard Baker, Chalmers West, Louis Harriman, Arthur Landry, Jay Clark, Virginia Hawes. Absent one half-day: Eleanor Pinkham, Elizabeth Harriman.

The program in part follows: Opening address, Helen Harding; little playlet in Arabian costumes, "Ali Cogia," by sixth grade pupils; victrola selection, "High Stepping Horses and Reindeer Running," illustrated by four girls in perfect rhythmic time; solo, Dorothy Littlefield and Richard Baker; calisthenics by intermediate school; victrola selection; other recitations and songs by both schools; closing address by Alice Verrill.

After the departure of the guests, the children were treated to candy and played games. Mrs. Harding received several gifts from her pupils.

The Current Events Club attended these closing exercises in a body and numerous relatives and friends were also present.

These, with many additions, repaired to the Congregational chapel, following these exercises, when the closing exercises of the grammar school, under Mrs. Beulah N. Hawes, were held.

The pupils graduating into the high school were Ada Roxanna Colcord, M. Agnes Littlefield, Amy W. Leach, Evelyn Noble, Frederick Landry, Theodore Bickmore and William W. Farris. The large audience of parents and friends enjoyed the following program: Greetings, Evelyn Noble; God's Will, Leona Pinkham; Vacation Time, a song by the school; Seven Times Two, Edith Trundy; The Gladness of Nature, Evelyn Trundy; The Wind, Ada R. Colcord; a number on the school photograph; Friday Cat, Elsie Fletcher; The Flower Phone, Cora Cunningham; The Fairy Shipwreck, Veda Cunningham; The Turn of the Road, Amy Leach; The Village Blacksmith, photograph recited; two choruses by the school; The Laugh in Church, Ada Coleman; Trees, Frederick Landry; The Thinker, Agnes Littlefield; The Broomstick Train, Theodore Bickmore; Did You Pass? Mary Morrison; Columbus, William Farris; Bring Back My School Days, by the graduates.

MAINE INTERESTED IN R. R. CONSOLIDATION

The Transportation Act of 1920 directed the Interstate Commerce Commission to prepare a plan for the consolidation of the railroads of the United States into a few great systems. While the Act does not direct that Commission actually to effect consolidations, it specifically declares that future railroad combinations must carefully follow the specifications of the plan finally adopted. That Commission has proposed and published tentative plans of consolidation. Its final plan will be determined after public hearings on this subject beginning at once, and it is expected that the hearing concerning the New England roads will be held in Boston, in August.

This is a matter of vital interest and of fundamental importance to Maine and New England and it is absolutely essential to Maine's future welfare that she takes correct and determined action at the pending hearings.

It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that there be formulated at the earliest possible moment, for presentation to the Interstate Commerce Commission at the hearings, a plan for the consolidation of the railroads of Maine which will protect her best interests and most fully meet her future needs.

The Maine State Chamber of Commerce & Agricultural League, with the Maine Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, have had several meetings in Boston and Portland with the Presidents of the various New England railroads, and also held several public meetings, and, so far, there have been four proposals submitted, with the Interstate Commerce Commission's recommendations.

Governor Baxter has acted promptly in this matter by committing the interests of Maine to a well balanced committee composed of the following able men:

Ex Gov. Carl E. Milliken of Augusta, chairman, representing the state at large; Hon. Charles E. Gurney of Portland, chairman of the Public Utilities commission, representing that body.

Hon. Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick, representing the railroad interests of the state.

Edwin M. Hamlin of Milo, representing the manufacturers and shippers of the state.

Leslie E. McIntire of Waterville, representing the agricultural interests of the state.

All sections of the state are represented on the committee.

This committee takes up its work without in any way being committed to any plan, and it has a free hand to make whatever recommendations and suggestions it may desire. The various commercial and trade organizations of the state, such as the Associated Industries, chambers of commerce, the grange, the Association of Bankers, the labor organizations and other bodies will be invited to appear before the committee and give it the benefit of its knowledge and advice.

Gov. Baxter hopes that hearings will be held within the state, that some plan may be agreed upon and that a united Commerce commission. It would be highly desirable to have this done.

NORTHPORT

Mrs. George F. Harriman of New York has arrived at her cottage on South Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian C. Tuttle and family are at their cottage for the season. Mr. Tuttle will conduct his studio and store as usual.

Mrs. Ira M. Cobe has arrived at Hillside Farms from New York where she had spent the winter at Hotel Majestic with her mother, Mrs. Benj. F. Barlow, who recently returned from Longwood, Fla., where she spent the winter and by Mrs. Ruth Cobe Hoffman of Chicago, who will be her guests this summer. Mr. Cobe will come early in July.

Our Ancestors Treated Constipation Naturally.

Constipation is as old as the world. Most people must fight it from birth to death. Some use harsh cathartics or metallic drugs that force relief, but do not treat the organs so that they perform their functions normally.

Our early ancestors turned to Nature for pleasant relief. From herbs, barks, roots and leaves blessed with laxative properties, they prepared a pleasant, effective extract. Such a remedy as our forefathers made is Dr. True's Elixir of the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. Prescribed for his patients originally seventy one years ago by Dr. J. F. True, a conscientious Maine country doctor, it has become a household favorite. Contains no metallic drugs—just pure extracts that purify the bowels as they cleanse. Used over 70 years. 40¢—60¢—$1.20.

The Declaration of Independence

A "Hall of Fame" ought to be erected at Washington in honor of the 56 brave, determined, patriotic men who signed that famous old document known to all the world as "The Declaration of Independence."

With commendable appreciation we have erected memorials to the heroes of the Revolutionary war, the war of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the great World war. We have also erected many memorials in recognition of patriotic services performed by eminent statesmen since the creation of this great republic. Nowhere, however, has a memorial been established in honor of the men who signed the never-to-be-forgotten Declaration of Independence. It will be 150 years on July 4, 1926, since our forefathers affixed their signatures to the declaration. It would be most appropriate to dedicate a memorial to them upon the occasion of that anniversary.

It is high time these men were accorded the recognition that is justly due them. With but a comparatively few exceptions the names of these 56 men have been forgotten by the average man or woman of the United States. During a day of investigating around the United States Capitol, and on the streets of Washington, one would not find a single person who could mention more than half a dozen of the men who signed that famous document. Yet these are the men who made this republic a possibility. Had it not been for their courageous action we would have no Fourth of July celebrations throughout the length and breadth of this fair land and no occasion for any.

FOR SWIMMERS TO REMEMBER

With the coming of the swimming season once more swimmers should fix firmly in their minds the fact that certain precautions must be observed to avoid accidents.

Those who go into the water soon after a hearty meal court danger. Those venturing too far from shore in rough weather or before they have had sufficient practice risk their lives. Those who get themselves into difficulties in the water through imprudence endanger not only their own lives but the lives of those who go to their rescue. Deep water is not necessary to the enjoyment of swimming.

A veteran fisherman off Coney Island greeted a swimmer who had braved a head wind in order to reach the dory, anchored on the banks half a mile from shore with the remark that the water close in shore was just as salty as the middle of the ocean.

The muscular effort used in swimming is entirely different from the muscular effort required in other sports. Every part of the muscular system is brought into play in this health promoting pastime, which confers such far reaching benefits that everybody who can engage in it should do so.

Those having access to salt water enjoy a boon which is denied to residents of the fresh water States. The latter must be content with ponds and lakes and rivers; but health and enjoyment can be had in any of these down to the smallest of the swimmer's holes in which the neighborhood boys laugh away the happiest hours of their lives.

THE PLANET MARS.

(From Oxford Democrat.)

This old earth of ours is getting chummy with Mars, one of our nearest neighbors in the blue ether. The earth is not altogether to blame for this because Mars is coming nearer than has been before since 1909. Of course we are interested in her—want to see how she looks in the red robe in which she is dressed; so we are pointing our biggest lunette at her—Dr. P. revival Lowell's great telescope at Harvard, Arizona. If one looks at her with the natural eye, she is only a bright red star, the same as she always has been; so one can hardly realize she is flirting with the earth, but she is—at least the astronomers say she is. With the naked eye she looks about as large as one's fist, but through Lowell's big telescope she looks about twenty-five times the area of the full moon, as seen with the naked eye, so she is some planet. Perhaps our astronomers can now find out what she is doing with canals, and whether she really wears an ice cap on her head.

May is such a clever girl—She knows the way to blend The colors in her centerpiece Just so they won't offend. She's truly very kind of heart And trims the poorest lots With something as exquisite as The blue forget-me-nots.

But when her lovely centerpiece Was all complete and fine, Her sister June will come along To change the whole design.

THE ILLINOIS TRAGEDY.

Who Started the Butchery?

(New York Herald)

The eyes of this country are centered upon southern Illinois.

One reason is that one of our great States, one of those States in which the traditions of order and honor and power of law should be of the strongest, remained supreme in a crisis and in a tragic hour.

The affair at Herrin was a massacre, done not merely with deliberation, but with hideous pleasure.

There is nothing in the history of the United States to compare with the savagery of the mob that turned the surrendered strikebreakers loose only to shoot them down; that cut their throats as they lay wounded; that cursed them as they were dying in the hospitals; that killed women and babies, and that brought the children into the morgue to "take a look, kid; at what your father did."

Alienates Sympathy.

(Springfield Union.)

The affair is likely to be a greater blow to the striking unions than to coal operators. Nothing alienates public sympathy or respect quicker or more thoroughly than violence, and especially violence of this murderous type. No strike can win by such methods or long survive such outbreaks. The effort to find excuses for extenuating circumstances only fires public opposition.

Furthermore, under a decision of the court the unions become liable for the damages they wrought and union funds subject to attachment. Mr. Gompers resents such a decision, yet to deny justice and the power of the law in such cases is but another way of justifying violence and murder to prevent the freedom of action among working people who do not belong to the unions, or to the particular unions that are on strike.

FINE HOME FOR SALE

Two story, modern frame house, 8 rooms. City water, 1

Copied from the "July Review" Booklet of The City National Bank of Belfast

The Features which stand out most prominently in the Progress of this Institution since our Annual Statement on January 1, are the Increase in the Capital Stock and Surplus.

The Capital invested by stockholders has been DOUBLED thru the sale of 1,000 new shares, INCREASING THE CAPITALIZATION from $100,000 to $200,000. This new Stock SOLD ITSELF there being such a demand that NO sales effort was necessary to place it.

655 shares were taken by FORMER stockholders and 345 shares by NEW stockholders. 48 NEW STOCKHOLDERS were thus added to our former list of 147, making the present number of stockholders 195.

Former stockholders had the privilege of purchasing the new stock at $100 per share. New stockholders paid $125 per share, $100 of which went into the Bank's Assets and the other $25 was diverted to old stockholders who did not purchase their allotment of the new stock. $13,625 was thus received by old stockholders in this way, making what was virtually an extra dividend to them of this amount, or $25 per share. Former stockholders who PURCHASED the new stock at $100 RECEIVED the $25 per share JUST THE SAME, because the stock which they purchased for $100 was worth $125, and in reality MORE.

National Bank stocks usually sell high. The stock of THIS Bank is a SAFE and DESIRABLE investment, and CHEAP at $135 per share. It is FREE from taxation to the owner.

There has NEVER been a National Bank failure in this State in its long history, an ENVIABLE record.

Our surplus has been INCREASED by a transfer from profits account of $50,000, changing the surplus from $50,000 to $100,000.

Thus, the capital and surplus now stand at $200,000 and $100,000 respectively, a total of $300,000 of STOCKHOLDERS' MONEY in the Bank's assets for the PROTECTION OF DEPOSITORS. Adding to this the STOCKHOLDERS' LIABILITY of $200,000 more makes a total available responsibility for SECURITY OF DEPOSITORS in this institution of $500,000—HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

To this may be added also the progressiveness, strength and efficiency of the Bank's management by its Board of Directors and Officers, always the UNDERLYING feature of STRENGTH and SAFETY in every banking institution.

Owing to the Belfast Savings Bank's decision to discontinue business, this Bank invites and expects to receive the deposits which have accumulated there. As dividends are paid by that institution, deposits of the same can be made in our savings department, where 4% is paid, the same rate which has been received there. Though one may have an account with us already this should not bar increasing the same to any amount. There is no limit to the amount on which we pay interest. With the safety provided by the capital, surplus, stockholders' liability, United States Government supervision, and the progressiveness, strength and efficiency of the management of this Bank, money will always be safely protected here and ready for the depositor when needed.

We call attention to our growth in deposits the past year of $325,040.91.

As before said, the $1,800,000 deposits in the Belfast Savings Bank, we believe will largely be transferred here, and thus retained in Belfast, where they will work for the benefit of the people of this State and particularly this section of the State.

We are indeed sorry not to have been privileged to be of material assistance in the liquidation of the Savings Bank, which we could have been, but "the powers that be" willed it otherwise.

With the increase of business of this Bank, our earnings likewise grow. Current profits for the past six months were $38,023.92. There has been a large increase in the values of the securities in our securities investment account during the past eight months, which increase will continue gradually for some time yet. The top of values has not yet been reached. From this increase in the securities still retained, $26,309.06 has been transferred to profits account, making total profits before deductions and transfers of $107,192.42. From this amount $11,499 was charged down on a suspended loan, reducing the same to $1.00, pending its settlement; $1,669.50 was paid for taxes on stock owned; $50,000 was transferred to surplus account; $6,000 was set aside for dividends July 1; and the balance, $38,023.92, was carried forward to next six months in profit and loss account. The market value of our securities account exceeds the book value by over $57,000 as of July 1, making a total actual surplus and profits of over $195,000.

Our Directors give the closest personal attention to the affairs of this Bank and make thorough examinations semi-annually. Your attention is called to our list of Directors given on the first cover.

This Bank maintains under the Federal Reserve Act, a trust department, which has received large trust accounts the past six months. All trust investments are segregated by themselves for the benefit and protection of the special trust accounts.

We make wills free of expense and the same may be left for safe-keeping, free of expense.

We act as Executor of your will, if desired, and by the appointment of this Bank as your Executor, you can feel sure that your estate will be safeguarded and your wishes carried out in accordance with your will instructions.

We have installed another New Chest of Safe Deposit Boxes since January 1. Boxes rent at $3.00, $5.00, $6.50 and $8.00. Our vault is one of the STRONGEST in the State.

We loan on names, real estate mortgages, live stock and securities. We grant every assistance the responsibility of the borrower warrants. We have constantly high-grade investments for sale.

We are eliminating entering into details as to these features of our business, all of which are familiar to this community.

One of the FIRST thoughts of this Bank is the UPBUILDING of this community, and the HELPING of those who need assistance. There is ONE THING we do lack, and that is sufficient space to accommodate our fast growing needs, but that is soon to be corrected, thru the enlargement of our banking quarters.

World affairs are improving; business in the United States is gathering momentum, particularly in the building line; Waldo County affairs are in a healthy condition, and the dream of years is soon to be consummated in Belfast, the construction of a new High School building. This will materially STIMULATE the trade and INCREASE the population of our city.

The assistance and advice of this Institution are always open to all. You are always welcome here, whether you do or do not have business to transact at the time.

WALDO.

The Whitcomb school in Waldo, taught by Miss Inza Boyd of Jackson, closed Friday, June 23rd. The following evening a school entertainment was given at Silver Harvest grange hall, with ice cream on sale, also a quilt, which had been made by the parents and pupils of the school. The quilt was sold by tickets, Una Thompson getting the lucky number. The net proceeds from the entertainment were $27.40, which is to be used to purchase a clock and other needed furnishings for the schoolroom. Much credit is due the teacher, also Mrs. Julia Gurney, for the very pleasing manner in which the program was given. Several numbers were recited, and special mention should be made of the Indian song and dance by six of the older pupils, the darky song, tune, I Ain't Nobody's Darling, by ten of the small children, and last, but not least, the tambourine dance by Mona Gurney. The dialogue, entitled Moving Day, was fine, each part being especially well taken, and kept the audience in an uproar from start to finish. The program included the following: Address of welcome, Carrie Small; song, Let's All be Good Pals Together, school; exercise, first grade; song, But Cuz Can Never Tell, Anna and Mona Gurney; rec., Who Made the Speech? Evelyn Young; Indian song, Wana; rec., When Baby Spilled the Ink, Chester Richards; song and dance, Little Maid; tableau, The Flower of the Family; rec., Sixty Years Ago, Eleanor Dutton; dialogue, The Trials of a School Teacher; darky song; rec., The Trouble With the School, Clarence Ausplund; song, I'd Love to go to Sleep, Nellie and Freeman Herbert; exercise, A Rainy Day, Mona Gurney, Edna Richards; rec., A Little Speech, Illie Smith; rec., A Rogue, Willard Emery; rec., Moving Day, Edna Richards; dialogue, Moving Day; exercise, first grade: Clifton Blood, Evelyn Young, Avon Buzzell, Aretta Blood, Herbert Young, Alice Whitcomb, Illie Smith; Indian song: Isabel Payson, Louise Herbert, Carrie Small, Alice Payson, Anna Gurney; dialogue, Ausplund; Little Maid: Anna Gurney, Clarence Ausplund, Eleanor Dutton, Chester Richards, Mona Gurney, Willard Emery, Avis Leavitt, Freeman Herbert; darky song: tune, I Ain't Nobody's Darling, Nellie Herbert, Freeman Herbert, Aretta Blood, Warren Blood, Illie Smith, Herbert Young, Ellen Poland, Mona Gurney, Alice Payson, Anna Gurney; dialogue, The Trials of a School Teacher: Alice Payson, Herbert Young, Illie Smith, Evelyn Young, Clifton Blood; dialogue, Moving Day: Mrs. Speedwell, Carrie Small; Mr. Speedwell, Chester Cross; Walter Speedwell, Edna Richards; Louise Speedwell, Mona Gurney; maid, Louise Herbert; cook, Isabel Payson; smasher, a man from the china store, Guy Gurney; Jones, a man from the book seller's, Chester Richards. The following pupils were neither tardy nor absent during the term: Carrie Small, Isabel Payson, Alice Payson, Evelyn Young.

Mrs. Emma G. Wood, widow of Josiah L. Wood, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Fish, at the Head of the Tide, this city, Wednesday, June 28th. She was 74 years old on the 11th day of May last. She was born in Rockland, but had lived in Belfast for over fifty years. She leaves four sons and two daughters, A. Lorenzo Wood, Charles E. Percy H., Francis E., Mrs. Emma Burton and Mrs. Walter Fish. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Charles W. Martin of the Methodist church officiating.

SWANVILLE.

Mrs. John Briggs arrived home from Everett, Mass., Saturday morning. The L. A. S. will meet with Mrs. Mary F. Nickerson Thursday afternoon, July 13th. Mr. V. Spear, who has been suffering for a long time with cancer on his face, is confined to the bed and in a critical condition. Mr. Earle Smart has bought the little house beside the blacksmith shop and will occupy it as soon as Mrs. Smart is able to come home. Mr. Raymond Howard of North Searport has leased the store part of Cunningham's Hall and is fitting it up for an automobile repair shop. Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo W. Damm announce the engagement of their daughter Bernice Avaline to Russell Linwood Littlefield of Swanville.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Robbins and son Mr. Payson Robbins and wife of Augusta and Mrs. E. C. Ballard of Vassalboro were recent guests of Mrs. Luella H. Nickerson and Miss Cora Parsons. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradford and son of Damariscotta were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Trundy last Wednesday night and attended the ball at the Swan Lake Pavilion. They are visiting relatives in different parts of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Applin returned to Somerville, Mass., Wednesday morning, accompanied by Miss Augusta E. Nickerson. Miss Phyllis Applin remained with her grandmother. Mrs. Applin is expected back in a few days to spend the summer here. Mr. Elbert G. Moulton of Brooks and Miss Fannie Brown of this town were quietly married in Belfast Tuesday evening, June 27th, and left Wednesday morning for Lake Winnecook to spend their honeymoon. They have the best wishes and congratulations of a large circle of friends, and will make their home in Brooks.

Mrs. Wesley C. Hunt was in Fairfield on business recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Thurston are the parents of a fine baby girl, born Tuesday morning, June 20th. John and Cary Gee, Milton Greeley, and George E. Gilmore were among the people who went to Bangor to attend the circus. Plans are being made for the observance of Children's Sunday at the church, and the exercises are expected to be held July 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Wheeler of Hartland have been recent visitors at the home of her brother, Arnold Hunt. They have also visited other relatives in town. Many from here went to Lewiston last Thursday for the day to attend the circus. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mitchell, Mrs. Ralph Miles and Burnham Winn.

Gordon MacKenney is clerking for Chester Sheldon. Mrs. Mary Godfrey has hired the Alvah Greenlaw cottage for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Bray spent the week end at their cottage at Birch Crest Park. H. A. Patch, Sidney Hodgdon, Lloyd Oxtan and Ray Carleton motored to Union last Saturday. Mrs. Sally M. Rand and party have arrived for the season and are in the Godfrey cottage South Shore. Miss Adela Hills of Somerville, Mass., and friends spent the Fourth with Henry G. and Isaac S. Hills and families.

The T. C. Hudsons of Columbus, Ga., have arrived at their delightful country estate on the shore road below Saturday Cove.

Roy Southard and family are to occupy the Wager house until their cottage is finished which they are building on Birch Crest Park.

H. K. Whitaker of Boston, paymaster of the firm of Jordan & Marsh, spent the Fourth with his sister, Mrs. A. C. Sheldon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sink of Dorchester, Mass., have arrived for the season and are occupying the Banton cottage on South Shore.

Mrs. Mary E. Ayer and Miss Anna C. Ayer of Brookline, Mass., have arrived at their cottage on South Shore. They made the trip by auto.

Capt. and Mrs. Goodwin of Brooks are on the ground for the season and the former is using his yacht Ellie for pleasure parties and short trips.

The supper held at the Chapel June 28th by Ladies Aid was well attended, over $22 being netted. Mr. Philo C. Blaisdell presenting the Aid with $5.

Master William Richards of Dorchester, Mass., has arrived at Temple Heights and will remain for the season as a student at Camp Navajo, Orrin J. Dickey's summer school for boys.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Ferguson of Roxbury, Mass., who recently bought the Dodworth-Douglass cottage on North Shore, will arrive for the season July 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pope and little daughter, Ruth, of Brookline, have arrived for the season. They are entertaining Mrs. Pope's mother and sister, Mrs. Leavitt and Miss Ruth Leavitt, of Boston.

Five or six Old Town Indians have camped at Brezzy Point, near Kelley Cove and add very materially to the picturesque quality of the locality, being a new quantity to many of the summer guests. Their baskets, bags, etc., are always interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Hamilton of Brookline have arrived and will occupy the Howes cottage on the North Shore. They have as guests, Mrs. James Manning of Brookline and Mrs. Eleanor Winslow of Wakefield, both of whom have frequently visited here in summer. William Card of Boston is spending the summer at the Hills Homestead in East Northport. He is continuing his studies on the piano under the instruction of Richard E. Stevens of Brookline, Mass., who with Mrs. Stevens is occupying one of the Cobe cottages on South Shore.

The Frederick Holsingtons of Rye, N. Y., are established for the season at their charming country estate on Sunset Island, just across the bay from the Hudsons. With them are the Misses Miriam and Betty Folwell of Philadelphia, Mrs. William Folwell, their mother, being in Europe.

The Ladies' Aid of East Northport and vicinity are to have a sale sometime in July, for which Mrs. Lillian C. Ross has kindly offered the porch and lawn of the Waquoit. Philo C. Blaisdell has given them a wrist watch for the sale. They will have punch work, sofa pillows, a percale quilt and afghan which will probably be sold at auction. A plate lunch with coffee will be an attractive feature, especially to motor guests.

Ira M. Cobe arrived Saturday from New York coming by auto. He was accompanied by Charles E. Rogers of New York, who will spend the summer on South Shore, and by Claude B. Roberts of Brighton, Mass., who spent Sunday with his family on North Shore. Mrs. Rogers and Miss Louise will arrive later and Miss Adeline Rogers came earlier in the week accompanying Mrs. Cobe and Mrs. Frederick Hoffman of Chicago, who have arrived at Hillside Farms.

Cards have been received by members announcing the July events of the Northport Country club, as follows: Thursday, July 6, special dinner, 6.30; dance, 8.30; Tuesday, July 11, ladies' bridge at 2.30; Tuesday, July 18, ladies' bridge at 2.30; Thursday, July 20, special dinner, 6.30; dance, 8.30; Tuesday, July 25, ladies' bridge, 2.30; July 30, Sunday, concert at 8.30 p. m.

For the coming season dance music will be furnished by Marston's orchestra of Rockland, the opening dance being July 6th. Sunday concerts have been reduced in numbers, and it has not been possible to provide an entertainment of merit for each Sunday evening, without an expenditure too great for the resources of the club, so it has been thought better to have fewer entertainments and the quality of each to be improved. The operating expenses the past year were as follows: Membership dues, $1,620; guest cards, $6; sales, $31.96; total, $1,657.96; operating expenses, $1,886.35; total operating loss, $228.39. Following are the officers for the ensuing year: Charles Bradbury of Belfast, president; Ira M. Cobe of New York and Northport, vice president; Charles E. Rogers, New York, secretary and treasurer; Miss Caroline Perrine, assistant; board of governors, Ralph L. Flanders, W. Blaisdell, James H. Howes, Ralph A. Peavey, Mr. Cobe, Morris L. Slugs, Wilmer J. Dorman, T. Frank Parker, Claude B. Roberts; golf committee, Mr. Flanders, chairman, William E. Hatch, J. W. Dougan, Mr. Peavey, Mr. Howes, Mr. Cobe, William C. Ladies, Take Notice!

I want you all to know that you can get a hat at almost your own price. Who ever heard of a genuine Panama for $3.75, nevertheless it is true. I only have a few left. I am going to sell them. They were formerly $7.50 and $5.00 apiece. I also have Sailors with colored facings, and Sport Hats at the same price. Several of last season's Hats at $1.50. I want to close them out at once. Children's Hats $1.50 and $1.25 each.

HARRY MYERS
IN "THE ADVENTURES OF ROBINSON CRUSOE"
A UNIVERSAL SERIAL

Harry Myers Plays Lead in Adventure Film

Crusoe, Pegleg, One Eye, Black Tom, Friday!

You'll see them all in the Universal version of the universally beloved Daniel Defoe story of adventure which has been produced in eighteen chapters called "The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe," the first of which shows at the Colonial Theatre every Saturday commencing July 15.

Each famous character was chosen with the strictest attention to two distinct qualifications—his physical resemblance to the Defoe character and his ability as an actor. The result is that each player seems to have stepped from the pages of the adventurous novel to further fascinate readers.

Harry Myers, famous as "The Connecticut Yankee," carries the role of Crusoe with all the dash, love of adventure and vitality that made the original hero popular the world over. Gertrude Olmstead, winner of a beauty contest, plays the leading feminine role, Percy Pembroke, formerly featured in Universal Westerns, plays an important
"heavy" role as Crusoe's friend, Josef Swickard takes the part of Crusoe's father, Gertrude Clire is cast as Crusue's mother, and Noble Johnson plays the part of the faithful Friday.

CITY POINT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Bailey of Boston arrived Monday and were guests at the Bailey home over the 4th.

Mrs. Stella Morine and three children, Philip, Dorothy and Pearl, are guests at the home of her brother, Walter Darres.

Mrs. Ellen Shorey attended the graduation exercises at C-stine recently and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark.

Mrs. O. E. Clay and her son, Basil
Newell, are taking a camping trip through Maine. Mr. Newell has a Ford car to use for his summer trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark of Castine and grandson, Roger Danforth, arrived last week to spend the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Shorey.
Her mother, Mrs. Theodore Shorey, accompanied her and returned to Portland after a few days' visit.

Walter Darres, who for the past two or three years has run a lumber mill at the house in which he has lived here, has moved his mill to Saturday Cove, Northport, and will work there during the summer. We are glad to know that Mr. Dar-res' family will continue their residence here, and that he will drive to and from his work when possible.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes of Manchester, N. H., three children and nurse, who have been taking a vacation trip by automobile and have been the guests of his mother in Belfast and of Mrs. Holmes' parents in Castine, have spent a few days at the homes of Dr. Holmes' brothers, Fair and Gay Holmes, during their trip. They will return to Manchester this week.

The following from a Lynn, Mass., paper will interest the friends of Bradbury Staples, son of Arthur Staples, who as a child spent several summers here at the home of his grandfather, the late Beverly Staples:

"Bradbury C. Staples, a well known young man of this city, is a member of the 'Dancing Whirl' Company which will appear at Lowe's Orpheum, Boston, the coming week. This company is completing with the New England circuit, a 40 weeks' transcontinental tour, and have also played the larger cities of Canada.
It will end the season the last of this month in New York City. Mr. Staples will spend the summer months in New York perfecting new dances and musical features for an association with one of the largest musical comedy productions that will be seen in New York next season."

Major Arthur L. Thayer of Bangor the chairman of the Maine Industrial Accident Commission, assigned the following local cases which were heard Wednesday, July 5th, in the Municipal Court room in the city building before the full commission: Adrian Bridges versus Cyr Brothers Company and the Travelers' Insurance Company, insurers; petition to determine the extent of permanent impairment;
Raymond Aldus versus the Consumers' Fuel
Company and the Maryland Casualty Company, insurers; petition to determine the extent of permanent impairment; Charles M. Wood versus Leonard & Barrows and the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, insurers; petition to determine the extent of permanent impairment.

Ralph H. Howes, president of the Belfast Chamber of Commerce, who was instrumental in securing the great convenience of daily mails on the Boston steamers of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Indicates all to use this service. He also suggests that Belfast people doing business in Boston urge the latter to patronize the boat service when filling the orders. The steamers will take the mail every day including Sundays, as they started on their daily trips Sunday, July 2. Belfast will have the convenience of a Sunday morning mail as well as a mail out Sunday night, as long as the boats run on the summer schedule.
Mail must be in the Belfast Post Office by 4.20 in the afternoon. As the last train out leaves at 1.10, the mail closing at 12.30, the extra time allowed by having the mail go on the Boston steamers will be a great convenience to business people.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradbury gave a very delightful party Sunday evening at the "Rest Awhile" cottage on Sunday street near the shore. The guests were also at the Bradbury home for a short time, where a musical program, including vocal solos by Mrs. Basil R. Allen, was enjoyed. The shore dinner menu included a good supply of lobster claws, steamed, and augmented by an abundance of delicious food. The table decorations, favors, and place cards were in red, white and blue, with joker caps and horns in the same colors and were a pleasing feature. The friends motoring down from Bangor were Miss Carolyn, Mr. Wm. David, Mr. and Miss Carroll, who are at present playing in their stock company there, Mr.
Cratty and son Reginald of the Penobscot Exchange, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stearns of the Bijou Theatre. The Belfast friends present were Mr. and Mrs.
Frederick G. Spinney, Capt. and Mrs.
Basil R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Miss Edna Conant is visiting her sister,
Mrs. W. E. Hebard, in Chester, Mass.
Ernest Libby of Melrose, Mass., is at the home of his uncle, C. H. Libby, for the summer vacation.

Harold Littlefield and family of Bangor and Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Brewer were in town for a few days recently.
Hubert Hall of the village is at G. H.
York's and, assisted by S. L. Ritchie of Monroe, is painting his buildings.

Miss Laura Bickford, who has been teaching in Drew for the past year, is at her home for the summer months.

Mrs. Carrie Croxford and her little granddaughter, Verita Nealey spent the weekend with C. H. Libby, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jewett accompanied Wayne Kenney and party to Bangor, June 27th, to attend Ringling's circus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowe of the village and Mr. and Mrs. Will Folsom of Massachusetts were entertained recently by C.
B. Jewett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Robbins of Augusta and Mrs. Ballard of Vassalboro were guests two days last week at Mr.
and Mrs. C. H. Libby's.

July bids fair to rival June, which gave us 20 stormy days out of 30.

Capt. Ralph W. Patterson, who owns the lot of land which contains the cellars of the store and the McCrillis house between the roads leading from the Memorial bridge, has planned as soon as possible to grade it and make an attractive green in this conspicuous location. Several have offered to assist him and now it is suggested that the work be done this Thursday, and all who are interested are cordially invited to assist. These are busy times with Capt. Patterson and he will appreciate the assistance.

The City of Belfast advertises for bids for construction of new schoolhouse.

G. L. Slipp has barrel heading for sale.
See advt. of wood lot for sale.

George Priest is building a garage on his lot on Cottage street. Thomas Watt who returned here recently from Rockland is the carpenter.

Mail will be dispatched on the Sunday afternoon boat for Boston. There will be no collections from street letter boxes for this dispatch. It therefore will be necessary for mail to be deposited in the post office—Austin W. Keating, P. M.

The Belfast friends of Mr. and Mrs. W.
B. Getchell and family of Augusta and Belfast extend sincere sympathy to them in the tragic death of their son and brother, Alton Getchell of Hallowell. Cecil Getchell of this city, his brother, was called home to attend the funeral. The family have for a number of years spent the summer at their cottage here on the Condon shore.

The Ford car stolen last Thursday night from Albert H. Morse at his home on Congress street was later located by Sheriff Frank A. Littlefield at Sandspoint and Saturday was recovered by its owner. The young man, who stole the car was on his way towards Bangor, but was stuck in the mud at Sandspoint and was obliged to abandon the car. He has not been caught.

George C. Thompson of this city has taken the management of the Northport picture theatre for the season. This week he runs but two evenings, Wednesday and Thursday, but hereafter he will run four evenings each week, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, beginning at 8 o'clock, and give one performance. Norman L. Littlefield of this city will operate the picture machine.
Mr. Thompson has had experience with picture shows both in Augusta and in Belfast.

The Boston Herald of a recent date inferring to the Bowdoin College Commencement says in part: "The most solemn feature of the program was the awarding of the A. B. degree to two of the class of 1917, who left college and died over seas, Lieut. Frank Durham Hazelton of Belfast and Capt. Judson G.
Martelle of West Somerville, Mass."

Lieut. Hazelton was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hazelton of Belfast and his death was among the first reported and brought home to many the awfulness of the World War. Hazelton Post, A. L. of H., is named in his honor.

Troop IV of the Boy Scouts of the Baptist church leave for Castine next Monday where they will enjoy their annual camp together. They will be under the supervision of the scoutmaster, Rev. George C.
Sauer, assisted by Harold Kelley of Troop III. A well-appointed cottage has been secured near the shore and a number of tents will be set up, and the camp activities will be conducted under strict discipline and much attention will be given to athletics and wood craft. The expenses are very moderate. Since the accommodations are ample, there is room for several more boys of twelve years of age, who are willing to subscribe to the rules governing the camp. Application should be made at once. A meeting of the boys and their leaders will be held in the Boys Room at the church Friday evening.

Remarkable Renewal of Health and Strength Creates Enormous Demand for Great-Yong-Gona Remedy, GOLDINE Tonic and Nerve

For restoring your strength in cases of exhausted nerves, force and impoverished blood, caused by disease, overwork or worry, no remedy known to medical science has accomplished such remarkable results as the Great Tropical Tonic containing the precious Yong-Gona Root from the Fijis, GOLDINE Tonic and Nerve.

ed to be almost completely out of business. I went from 180 pounds down to 110, could not sleep, everything I ate caused pains all over my stomach and chest, and I suffered terribly with headaches. But now, they are gone. I can eat and sleep, and have my weight and strength back. Nothing on earth did me any good until I tried Goldine Tonic and Nerve.

Yong-Gona Root in GOLDINE is considered one of the most wonderful nerve tonics known, promoting digestion and increasing the general vitality-building activities of the entire system, especially valuable for summer debility. With Yong-Gona is combined in this splendid formula 14 of the world's choicest herbs for quick assimilation by even delicate stomachs. GOLDINE has redoubled strength in many cases after two or three weeks. Get your bottle today and make your first real start toward health regained.

The Fijian and Yong-Gona

So highly esteemed is Yong-Gona Root, contained in the marvelous tonic GOLDINE, among the Fijian South Sea Islanders that it formerly was only passed around at conclaves of the Chiefs and ceremonies like rich coffee among the Arabs.

RADIO

HOW AMATEUR CAN BUILD A RECEIVER

Instructions for Setting Up the Antenna and for Assembling the Tuner.

In order to pick up sufficient energy with the simple radio receiving set it is necessary to connect one terminal to an antenna consisting of one or more wires suspended in the air and insulated from all grounded material and the other terminal to a ground, usually the water supply pipe. The height of an antenna used with a small receiver should not be less than 30 feet. As the received energy varies directly as the height of an antenna, the higher the antenna the louder will be the signals or voice produced. The length of an antenna for short wave reception should not be less than 50 feet nor should it be longer than 200 feet. The minimum wave length to which a simple receiver can be adjusted for electrical resonance will be above that used by amateurs if the receiver be connected to an antenna 200 feet or more in length.

A simple radiophone receiver capable of picking up radiophone stations similar to KDKA at East Pittsburgh, can be assembled by a novice for from $4 to $15, depending upon the builder's ability to use his hands. If the builder will construct most of his apparatus he will appreciate it much more and probably will understand more about its operation than if he buys a set already made. However, for those who have not the ability or the time to spend constructing their own apparatus the following description will not only give the details as to the construction of each component part of a receiver but also what standard ready-made parts can be purchased and used in its stead.

The material can be purchased at any electrical supply store.

In erecting a simple antenna for use with the receiver shown in the diagram, the antenna proper and the lead-in are of stranded hard-drawn copper wire, strand No. 22, costing about 1 cent per foot. The two insulators are of molded material and can be purchased for about 25 cents each. The antenna shown is supported between a house and a pole. It may be found more convenient to support it between a tree and a house, two houses or even between two chimneys on the same house. In bringing down the lead-in wire should be taken that it is kept as far away from grounded material as possible and when bringing through the wall or under the window into the house it should be brought through some sort of an insulating tube, such as rubber or bakelite.

In making the ground connection the same kind of wire can be used as was purchased for the antenna. You can clean a section of the waterpipe thoroughly and solder the ground wire to it.

MAKING THE TUNER

To make a tuner for this receiver, the following raw material will be required:

Piece of cardboard tubing three inches outside diameter and five inches long, costing about 10 cents.
100 feet No. 22 double cotton-covered magnet wire costing 25 cents.
Standard slider (see sketch) for 1/4 by 1/4 brass rod, 40 cents.
2 binding posts (see sketch) 20 cents.

2 circular blocks of wood whose diameter is just equal to the inside diameter of the piece of cardboard tubing and between 3-8 and 1-2 inch thick.

Some shellac or varnish is also required.

TEXAS TARIFF TRUTH

A Free-Trade advocate, writing for the Dallas News, says a Protective Tariff will not aid the American farmers in getting a foreign market for their products. Nobody has ever said it would. But a Protective Tariff will give the American farmers a fair chance to compete with foreigners in the American market. That's something Free-Trade or a low Tariff won't do. And the American market is worth more to the American farmers than all the other markets in the world. We don't have to sacrifice the American market to get to sell to foreigners—not if we adopt the right sort of Protective Tariff law. We can sell to them without sacrificing anything if we Starting one-half inch from one end of the cardboard tube wind on the No. 22 D. C. C. wire within one-half inch of the other end of the tube. Fasten one end of the winding to the tube but allow some surplus wire on the other end for making a connection. After the winding is in place give it a coat of shellac or varnish to hold the turns in place. Assemble the circular-cut pieces of wood in the geometrical center of the square blocks and then shellac or varnish them for the appearance's sake.

When thoroughly dry slip the two end blocks into the wound tube and by means of a few finishing brads driven through the cardboard tube, fasten the end blocks to the wound tube. The slider is to be mounted on top of the coil and should be capable of making contact with any turn of the wire on the tube. In order to remove the insulation from the wire just under the rod where the slider moves back and forth, wrap a piece of sandpaper around a thin piece of wood and using another piece of wood as a guide, sandpaper the insulation from the winding. Drill a hole one-eighth inch in diameter through the slider rod about one-fourth inch in from each end so that the rod can be fastened by screws to the end blocks. After the slider rod is fastened in place see that the contact finger on the bottom of the slider can at all times make good contact with the winding. Mount a binding post on either end of the coil, attaching one by means of a wire to the slider rod and the other to the end of the wire wound on the tube and the tuner is complete. A tuner can be purchased already assembled for about $3.50 to $4.00.

LINKING MOVIE AND RADIO

British Scientists Have Some Success in Wireless Transmission of Motion Pictures.

British scientists are reported to have met with more or less success in developing a method of transferring motion pictures by radio. Some months ago a photograph was transferred by wireless from the Copenhagen newspaper, the Politiken, to England, and later from England to a ship in mid Atlantic, so that the possibility of linking the movies with the new art is not remote.

If perfected the new development of the already versatile art will make it possible for one to see on his own receiving instrument things that are happening at a great distance. For instance, a ship is sinking at sea. The transmitting station of the vessel, instead of sending a message of the disaster, sends a picture that anyone with a receiving set will be able to see just as the present broadcasting programs are heard.

That all sounds remote now, but the telephone was considered even more so, and the wireless, even after Marconi's immortal message had bridged the Atlantic, was generally believed to be akin to the idea of perpetual motion.

TIPS TO THE RADIOIST

A crystal detector cannot be satisfactorily amplified. Insulate ends of aerial wires with several small insulators. Wherever possible run aerial wires at right angles to electric light wires.

The lead wire should be the size of the combined number of wires in the aerial.

Gas piping makes a poor ground, but the cold water pipe ground is excellent.

A crystal detector is never as efficient as a vacuum tube detector no matter what instruments are connected to it.

Within three to five miles from a broadcasting station indoor one wire aerials about 40 feet long stretched from room to room, are generally satisfactory with crystal detectors.

have a Protective Tariff law of the right sort. Foreigners are not going to buy anything from us that they don't need anyhow, and they are going to buy that whether we have a Protective Tariff, a low Tariff or no Tariff. The old argument that in order to get to sell our surplus we must let the products of cheap labor everywhere, come in free is so silly that it does seem as if sensible people would quit using it.—Sherman (Texas) Press, 5.18.22.

Notice of Foreclosure

WHEREAS, Della M. George of Searport in the County of Waldo and State of Maine, by her mortgage deed dated the twelfth day of January, A. D. 1921, and recorded in the Waldo Registry of Deeds, Book 338, Page 22, conveyed to me, the undersigned, a certain lot or parcel of land situated in the Town of Searport, County of Waldo and State of Maine, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: It being all that part of the premises deeded to James H. Harriman of said Searport by Alfred Nickerson by his deed dated May 7th, 1888, and recorded in Waldo Registry, Book 219, Page 297, and being all that part lying west of the road leading from the Richard Smart place to Searport Village, and another parcel of land, it being the same conveyed to said Nickerson by Amanda M. Curtis by her deed dated August 12th, 1886, and recorded in said Registry, Book 210, Page 414, and lying east of the road leading from Searport Village to the east side of "Bog Hill," so called. Also another parcel of land situated in said Searport, and being the same premises conveyed by Williston Griswell to Annie A. Harriman by his deed dated December 18th, 1894, and recorded in said Registry, Book 243, Page 122, conveying by the above the same real estate without the buildings as is described in the Warranty Deed from Walter J. Creamer to Mary A. Floyd by deed dated May 21st, 1906, and recorded in the Waldo Registry of Deeds in Book 281, Page 484, to which record reference may be had for a more particular description. Also another lot or parcel of land situated in said Searport, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the junction of the Bog Hill and Smart road, thence easterly by said Smart road to the Black lot; thence south by said lot to land of Walter Matthews heirs; thence west by said Matthews' land to its northwest corner; thence south to its south-west corner; thence east to the Kneeland lot; thence south by said lot to land formerly owned by William Merithew; thence west 31 rods by said Merithew lot; thence north 67 rods to the said Bog Hill road; thence northeasterly by said road to place begun at, containing one hundred and eleven acres, more or less, and whereas the condition of said mortgage has been broken,

NOW THEREFORE, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, I claim a foreclosure of said mortgage.

Dated this thirty-first day of May, A. D. 1922.

Miss Rebecca Ross left Thursday for Boston. While away she will attend the conference at Wellesley College.

Mrs. Brainard Bates and three children of Boston have arrived to spend the summer at the Jackson bungalow on Pleasant Point.

D. W. Vaughan, Ralph Moody, J. H. Duncan, James P. Nichols and W. R. Blodgett attended the Commandery meetings at Waterville Saturday.

Mrs. Charlotte Ford and Miss Amelia Ford of Milwaukee, Wis., have arrived in town and will occupy their house in West Main street through the summer.

Professor Frederick R. Sweetser, who has been confined to his home by illness for several weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to receive a few piano pupils.

The Misses Annie and Aletta Young and Mrs. Davis have arrived from Philadelphia and will spend the summer months at the Thurston house in Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McGown and family have arrived from Worcester, Mass., coming over the road. They will spend the season at their cottage on Pleasant Point.

Mrs. E. S. Robbins of Jonesport was the guest last week of Mrs. Miles Towers. Mrs. George Sweetser of Derby left for her home recently after spending a week as the guest of Mrs. Towers.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Allen and three sons arrived Saturday from Orange, N. J., coming over the road. Mrs. Allen and sons will spend the summer at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Allen.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Durgin of Cupertino, Calif., are motoring across the continent and are expected to arrive soon in Searsport, where they will be guests of Mrs. Mial Sargent and Miss Alda Sargent.

About 40 members of Mariner's Lodge, F. & A. M., attended the special St. John's Day services at the Methodist church on Sunday, when Rev. N. F. Atwood preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Pease Waldron who died at her home in Searsport June 22nd were held from the Union church in Swanville June 25th at 1 p. m., Rev. N. F. Atwood officiating. Interment was in Greenlawn cemetery, Swanville. Mrs. Waldron was born in Hope 99 years ago. She had lived in Searsport for the past 14 years, having been devotedly cared for in her declining health, by her nephew, William Gillett, who with other nephews and nieces are her only surviving relatives.

Plans are now under way for the entertainment to be given in connection with the Mid-summer Fair of the Congregational Ladies' Guild in Union Hall, Wednesday, July 26. The entertainment will be presented by Searsport amateurs under the able direction of Miss Louise Dickerson Leib, who is in town for the summer, after spending the past year as director of physical training at Glen Eden, Conn. Miss Leib has decided to present Footh Tarkington's four-act comedy, Clarence. The production will be rather more pretentious than anything ever attempted here before, and the cast will include the best amateur talent the town affords. The play had a long run in New York, and is well adapted to amateur production, having been given by many theatrical clubs since its professional success. Rehearsals will begin at once.

The 1922 issue of the S. H. S. paper, the Opechee Chronicle, is out and is meeting with an excellent sale. It is interesting to know that from the proceeds of the sale of the 1921 edition, a handsome office table of quartered oak was purchased for the school room. From the sale of the 1920 issue, a quartered oak sectional bookcase was purchased. These new articles of furniture add greatly to the appearance of the room. The 1922 paper is a creditable production, especially as there were but four pupils in the Senior class. The Sophomore class helped to make the paper a success by contributing bits of description, personal experiences and stories. Miss Margaret Littlefield, was prevented by illness from giving her class part at graduation last year and her paper, on the Gary School System, is published in full.

The Annual Field Day of the Current Events Club was held June 27th as intended. The party of 25, including two children, assembled soon after 9 o'clock and were taken by automobiles to the Addison Shute house at Sandpoint, which is occupied by Mrs. Skinner of Lawrence, Mass. for the summer, where at 12 o'clock they partook of a fine dinner of salmon, salad, ice cream, cake and coffee.

OIL DEPOTS AT STOCKTON

Lease of a small lot of land at Stockton Springs, near the Bangor and Aroostook docks at Cape Jellison, has been made by the New England Oil Refining Co. as a preliminary step to what may mean the use of oil for fuel by mills and railroads in this section. The Mexican Petroleum Co. has also looked over possible sites at Stockton Springs, having practically decided upon one at Kidder's Point. The proposition has both advantages and disadvantages, especially the latter in this climate and its cold winters, and as yet the operation of the project seems to be far distant.

Representatives of both companies have brought the matter before the Bangor and Aroostook and Canadian Pacific railroads and the Great Northern Paper Co., the latter already having been using oil as a fuel at its Madison plant. The project as outlined is the transporting of the fuel to Stockton by tank steamer and then distributed via the B & A. lines.

What it will amount to at the present time is indefinite. The Great Northern has been recently completed installing a number of new boilers and other equipment, all of which would probably have to be replaced if a change to oil for fuel was decided upon. The railroads are considering the proposition, but one of its chief drawbacks in this climate is that the oil would have to be kept heated, while in storage, in order to maintain it in a sufficiently liquid condition for drawing off from the tanks, as well as heated prior to its introduction into the burners of the locomotives. The reconstructing of the locomotives to meet oil-burning requirements would also be an expensive detail.

The New England concern has a storage depot at Fall River, Mass.
